Dear Lillrut,

Tonight I have had time and possibility to read through the annual report of 1985 for The Birzeit Women Charitable Society. It is an interesting and stimulating reading and I can very well imagine that you meant much, so not the least the program out in the villages and the confidence among the mothers have increased so noticeably. It is a joyful reading for us and we believe that in this there is a clear mission-contribution.

With these lines I should like to ask you that before you come home you discuss with Georgette Abed and other responsible persons what expectations they eventually have from the Church of Sweden Mission. I judge that we could give a new application, but I feel unsure about what exactly it should contain. If so, you may want to work out an application, let us say for USD 20 000, I think you should do that and take it with you so that we can try to apply to SIDA, and in that way help your organisation, because I noted in the end of the report that among your problems there are continuous economical problems.

Yes, this was a short greeting and I hope that you receive it in time and that you have time to follow it up.

By the way today I spoke with your father by telephone and I understand that they together with us are looking forwards to your visit to Sweden. Welcome!

Yours sincerely
Rune Backlund
